

EASTON300 ARTS & CULTURAL FESTIVAL - Sponsored by NORTH EASTON SAVINGS BANK
Saturday, April 26, 2025 11-4 p.m.

CALL TO ARTISTS!

The Easton Tricentennial Committee invites local artists and artisans to showcase and sell their art at the Festival to be held at Oakes Ames Memorial Hall.

Interested artists should email a completed application, including artwork example images, to easton300.2025@gmail.com or mail it to Easton Tricentennial Committee, P.O. Box 300, Easton, MA 02334.

The deadline to apply is February 21, 2025.

Applications will be reviewed by the Tricentennial Arts & Cultural Committee and artists will be notified of acceptance by email by March 7, 2025.

Open to all artists (beginner, amateur and professional) over the age of 18. Open to all original, fine art mediums (oil, acrylic, water media, pastel, drawing, ink, printmaking, mixed media, photography, sculpture, pottery, jewelry, fiber and wood). We strive to feature a variety of art forms and styles and showcase local art and artists from different cultures, abilities and experiences. Artists will connect with the community about their art and have an opportunity to gain further recognition and exposure.

The Arts and Cultural Festival is a free event and is open to all. Please consider subjects that can be viewed by all ages and are inclusive and demonstrate sensitivity and respect to our community. It will be promoted through online and print marketing, social media and Easton Community Access Television (ECAT). Artists are encouraged to promote the event to their contacts and customers. We ask each artist to please donate a piece of their art which will be included in a raffle to benefit and defray the event cost.

Further details and requirements of setup will be provided to accepted artists prior to the event. All artists will bring a 6' table; a black cloth tablecloth will be provided. They are responsible for all other equipment; easels, frames, signage, business information, business cards, and point of sale information.

Wi-Fi will be available. The Art will be displayed on two floors of the Hall; the first floor is handicapped accessible. There is no elevator in the building; please let us know if you have any mobility or accessibility needs or if you will need assistance with carrying artwork or setup.

Artists will assume full responsibility for loss or damage to articles on display. The Tricentennial Committee, the Town of Easton and Oakes Ames Memorial Hall are not liable for any damage or loss of work in transit or on site of the event. Insurance on artwork is the responsibility of the artist.

If you have any questions about the Arts Festival or the application, please email Diane Lusardi at easton300.2025@gmail.com
